

EYEJ amplifies youth voices for those that are silent. eyej.org

Mission:

EYEJ: Empowering Youth, Exploring Justice empowers and amplifies the voices of teens and pre-teens by bridging them with diverse individuals to engage in interactive discussions centered around social justice.

EYEJ believes social justice means equality and opportunity for all. We believe a commitment to social justice requires us to value our collective diversity and commit to challenging injustice while simultaneously advocating on behalf of those who have the least.

EYEJ has served over 1,500 underserved youth through it's Discussion Series, EYEJ Impact 25 Youth Council, Change Summits, Y.O.D.J.: Youth Online Discussing Justice, DiscussSocialJustice and All-Star Reading Program.

History

Due to the death and ruling of Trayvon Martin, and through discussion and civil discourse, several Plymouth Church, UCC members including Mai Moore and June Antoine quickly gathered Plymouth Church members together as they knew that youth deserved and needed support to be empowered in August, 2013. Founder: Mai Moore, with her background and success in the tech industry understanding the balance between taking personal risk, speed, business, creating impact and results and community was necessary to help to amplify youth voices. <http://eyej.org/our-story/>

Title: Programming Training Strategist Lead

Purpose:

To review current training materials and process. To create new strategy, upgrade materials and train relevant team members on how to train.

Term:

3-4 Months. 3-5 Hours/wk.

Qualifications:

- 5+ Years in Corporate, Tech organizations in a training capacity
- Upbeat, strategic and proven winner in training people of wide diverse backgrounds
- Ability to teach and train the trainer
- Understand proven methods of training
- Creative, strategic, out of the box thinking and willing to implement
- Strong English language oral and written communication skills

Duties:

- General understanding of the the EYEJ brand, the programs, mission and vision
- Act as liaison for Training for Programming
- Review current materials, programming, business processes and training processes to implement more effective and relevant training needs for programming
- Create a plan, implement necessary improvements and training to the trainers to increase efficiencies and effectiveness of goals and materials
- Update all business training collateral according to plan

To apply: please email volunteer@eyej.org with your Cover Letter, Resume/Bio, any questions and if applicable samples of your work. EYEJ will respond to you and set up a time to speak to discuss the role further.

