YODJ: Youth Online Discussing Justice Partnership Opportunities for Sponsorship

To partner with EYEJ is to have a positive influence on Cleveland's schools, young people, and community members. Whether you choose to support us with financial sponsorship from $500 to $50,000, participate as a group for a team-building or volunteer experience, or help us develop curriculum content for our EYEJ Speaks Series, you will have a profound impact on the young people of Cleveland. Through EYEJ Speaks, you will reach 650 volunteers, up to 1,500 youth, the EYEJ board of directors, our Millennial Board, and EYEJ's partners and funders. Our digital and printed marketing materials reach 6,000 subscribers between the EYEJ Positive newsletter, EYEJ website, EYEJ social media platforms, and numerous events including meetings, training sessions, and service fairs. Your sponsorship will connect you to up to 1,500 teen and pre-teens in Cleveland experiencing toxic stress, being recruited by gangs as early as grade six, and relating to someone who is incarcerated. Our Youth Online Discussing Justice (YODJ) Program is proven to increase school attendance, lower suspension rates, and result in positive behavior change outside school. Every student who engages with EYEJ dreams of change in his or her neighborhood. By partnering with EYEJ, you can help us work with those students to make those dreams come true.
